Timely rains fell in the McFarland district during the latter part of March. The wheat and barley had begun to burn a little, but the rainfall has put it in fine condition and the crop promises to be the best for many years. It is estimated that there are 1000 acres of unirrigated wheat in this vicinity this season.

Many hatcheries of the state have promised to help the poultry department of the State College of Agriculture by making monthly reports of their sales of baby chicks. In this way, the college poultry authorities believe, accurate data may be secured on which to base estimates of the future egg production of California.

The fourth annual Avocado show to be held at Whittier April 25 to 30, promises to show a healthy growth in size and patronage over that of last year. It is stated that about 6000 persons attended the show last year, and arrangements are being made to handle 10,000 this time. The exposition is being sponsored by the Whittier Progress club.

Prospects are bright for the first normal peach crop in four years in the Pomona district. It is estimated that returns from this season's peach harvests will be much larger than they have been for several years in the Chino and Pomona districts. The blossoming has been particularly heavy. Local canneries will handle the bulk of the crop.

Not as many cows will go to the butcher block this year in Kings county as usual, it is reported, owing to the abundance of feed due to the unprecedented amount of rainfall. Farmers are holding their cows, no matter how old, with ample feed now and in prospect for the summer. Good prices are now being offered for cows, with not many takers.

The bulb farm of Dr. C. C. Crampton on the highway near Delhi in the state colony will again be a mass of color to delight the eye of the passer-by next summer. Incidentally, this hobby of a retired Illinois physician may result in a new industry for the settlement, as many of the colonists are deeply interested in watching the results obtained by the pioneer.

That dairying is on the increase in the Turlock Irrigation district is evidenced by the large number of thoroughbred dairy cattle being shipped in, over $9,000 worth having arrived within the past ten days. Through the efforts of the Turlock chamber of commerce many of the Turlock farmers are planting alfalfa this season, with the view of stabilizing production.

Is the Valencia orange the crop to which the soil and climate of Orange county are most ideally suited, or will some other product of the soil creep in and crowd it from its golden throne? Can the Avocado be seriously considered as a candidate for future orchard supremacy? These questions are being asked in all seriousness by some well-known growers. Time will answer them.

Bids have been called for on the proposed new creamery to be erected in Visalia by the Knudson Laboratories, Inc., of Los Angeles. This building will be erected on a site on Goshen avenue along the Southern Pacific tracks. It will be thoroughly modern in every detail, constructed of concrete and steel. About $40,000 or $50,000 is expected to be expended on the first unit of the local plant.

Electors of the Vacaville Union High school district voted Wednesday April 20, on the question of issuing $100,000 bonds to finance school improvements at Vacaville, Solano county. The issue was divided into two proposals, one providing $25,000 for purchase and erection of equipment for a gymnasium, and another for $75,000 to finance alterations and additions to the present school building.

The commission found that the company was earning in excess of 18 per cent per annum under the old rates.

A room in the Baker block on Main street was the first home of the infant telephone company. Just thirty years ago the list of subscribers had grown to 3168.

George W. Foulke, 85 years of age, and still hale and hearty, is Elk Grove's oldest pioneer resident. He arrived at Elk Grove in September, 1853, as a boy after journeying across the plains in a covered wagon with his parents. Foulke can recall how Elk Grove received its name from the first settlers because of the large number of elk seen roving around in this vicinity. Only one other person in the same party of immigrants is still living. She is Mrs. A. C. Freeman of San Francisco.

DR. DE VOSS SPEAKER MONDAY EVENING

The plans for Eduational Week observance have been completed for Monday evening, April 25.

The speaker of the hour who spoke at a former occasion here and one who knows his subject thoroughly and can give it in understandable terms, is Dr. De Voss, pyschologist at the State Teachers College of San Jose.

Music will be furnished by the Campbell Union Grammar School orchestra under the direction of Mr. Edw. Towner. Selections from two operettas, "Twilight Alley" by the upper grades and "Queen of Hearts" by the lower grades under the supervision of the teachers will complete the program of the evening.

Eddy to Open New Pipe Organ

Clarence Eddy, the world's most famous organist, will open the new $25,000.00 organ in the Scottish Rite Temple in San Jose on the evening of May 19th. Eddy is known the length and breadth of two continents as a recitalist of the highest merit, and he is probably today the dean of all living organists.

Eddy has opened more new organs than any other living man.

The Scottish Rite installation, which was built by the Estey Company consists of a three manual concert instrument, with a two-manual antiphonal organ. It is in many ways, of strikingly unique designs. The organ and mechanism are placed in nine different chambers.

Orders for tickets may be sent to the Scottish Rite Temple at San Jose, or music lovers may purchase their tickets at the doors on the evening of the performance.

A rat disorganized a parade at Santa Rosa recently, sent scores of women screaming into hysterics while strong men shouted in alarm. The parade was the culmination of Be Kind to Animals Week. Hundreds of boys and girls, surrounded by pet dogs, cats, goats, monkeys and such, comprised a six blocks procession. On the sides of the streets were gathered parents and onlookers. Charles Friedman, 9, was one of the proud marchers. His fondness for animals was displayed in four or five large, white-spotted Italian rats. They were in his pockets and clambered on his shoulders. At one of the busiest downtown streets, one of the rats, very tame and playful, leaped to the shoulders of a woman. She promptly went into hysterics, followed by every woman in sight. A wild scramble for altitude took place and the normal peaceful scene took on the appearance of a full blown riot. Charles is still looking for his pet.

More than 500,000,000 pounds of milk, or its equivalent in the form of manufactured dairy products, was required to supply the needs of Americans in 1926, in excess of this country's production, according to figures disclosed by the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics. In striking contrast to this adverse trade balance in the dairy industry, California total production increased and her per capita consumption likewise showed a gain for the year, it was revealed in a review of the statistics prepared for D. M. Dorman, president of the Crescent Creamery company. Every man, woman and child in the state last year consumed twenty-three and one-half gallons of milk, compared with twenty-two gallons in 1925, or a total gain of 7,000,000 gallons for the state's population. Total consumption in California in 1926 was 108,362,554 gallons, as against 101,705,518 for the preceding year.

Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel Company, who is at Del Monte, declared that California's future depended on intelligent conservation of the state's natural resources. "Protect and replant your fire devastated forests," said Schwab. "Exercise every precaution in the preservation of your valuable watersheds. Conserve and put to use the flood waters which at present do thousands of dollars damage every year." Schwab said he found California prosperous and felt that the Florida boom would redound to the benefit of this state, because everyone who joined in the Florida rush would want to visit California.

SHAH AT CAMPBELL MAY 6

The Operetta chosen this year for the Campbell High School is a Persian musical comedy in three acts named "In The Garden of the Shah," by Mary Howes and John Wilson Dodge.

Try outs were held Friday, March 4th at the high school, and those receiving principal parts were as follows:

Ted Harding, Mining Engineers from America, Richard Lynden, Billie Cummings, Eugene Tainter; Sam, (their Negro servant), Jack Murdock; Perunah (the Shah), Stephen Merrill; Somecraba, the Shiek), George Mattos; Zodah, (the Shah's daughter), Ruth Matteson; Lolah (Zodah's chum), Annette Merrill; Nowebeh, (a Negro scorceress), Opal Overshiner.

The operetta is to be presented May 6th at the Grammar School Auditorium.

Grammar Operettas Next Thursday

On Thursday evening, April 28 there will be two operettas given by the upper and lower grades of the grammar school.

The primary pupils will present "The Queen of Hearts" for their operetta this year. About seventy-five children will take part.

The play is interesting and the costumes are colorful .This operetta has both speaking and singing parts which tell the story of the "Queen of Hearts" who made some tarts all on a summer's day.

Mrs. Bradley is in charge of the production and has been loyally assisted by all the primary teachers.

The operetta given by the grammar grades is "Twilight Alley." It is something entirely different than has been given before, . e., the theme of the play. Come and see it to find out how civic improvement, Spring blossoms, little rich girls, and how to manage a large famly, can all be combined into one harmonious whole. Miss Nielson, music teacher in the upper grades, is in charge of the operetta, and from the success of the rehearsals, the affair ought certainly to be very good. There will be an admission charge of 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

A large attendance is anticipated on account of the universal merit of the productions.

Ladies Night

Ladies night will be observed at the Campbell Community Hall Saturday evening by the members and visitors of Charity Lodge F. & A. M. and their families. The committee, Robt. Scholz, A. C. Nelson and C. C. Anderson are evidently planning some surprises as they have kept most of the stunts under cover.

Warning that continued destruction of the state's watershed coverage will cut down the water supply so badly needed to promote irrigation projects, Governor Young, as chairman of the state committee, addressed an appeal to all agricultural associations in California to assist in spreading the gospel of fire prevention and reforestation during American Forest Week, April 24 to 30.

Redlands grows steadily judging from the growth of the postal receipts. For the first three months of this year the receipts at the postoffice here were $17,560, as compared with $16,462 for the same period last year. Every month so far this year has shown a gain, such a gain as would indicate a steady increase in population.

Southern Pacific trains will travel slowly when they go through Delano if the railroad obeys an ordinance ordered drafted by the city attorney by unanimous vote of the city trustees. The proposed ordinance would cut the speed of the train to eight miles an hour as a safeguard to children.

LOS GATOS CLUB GIVES PROGRAM

Monday afternoon the Country Woman's Club was favored with an exchange program furnished by the Los Gatos History Club.

Miss Mary Gilbert, the president, responded to the welcome given by Mrs. Carboni and introduced Mrs. Blake Franklin who gave a magnificient rendition of two piano numbers, "Prelude in G Minor," by Rachmaninoff, and an arrangement by Harriet Cady of the "Song of the Volga Boatman."

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. W. B. Seeley who talked about Southern England, Dorset and surrounding counties, describing particularly the old churches she visited. Rumsey Abbey, Christ Church Priory, Wimborn Minster, Salisbury Cathedral and the old ruins of Stonehenge.

Mrs. Seeley is particularly interested in church architecture, is a keen observer and has a very captivating manner of presenting her subject. Her talk was all too short for her audience who would have enjoyed hearing much more.

Besides those already named, Mrs. Wm. Balchelder and Mrs. Chas. Hayward of the History Club were also present.

The hall was most attractively decorated for the occasion and the committee served tea and wafers.

An invitation from the University Club of Los Gatos to hear Edwin Markham speak on Wednesday evening was read and accepted.

Mrs. M. E. Purmort was elected to act as delegate to the State Federation that meets in Sacramento soon. Mrs. Carboni will represent the club as president.

The meeting of May 2 will be the annual meeting with election of directors.

MORELAND CLUB WITH MRS MC CARTY

Moreland Good Will Club held its regular meeting April 13th with Miss Cassidy, the president, Mrs. Zittle, presiding. The collect was read. The secretary, Mrs. Anderson being unavoidably late. Mrs. Bean called the roll and read the minutes of previous meeting which were approved.

There was no program as the afternoon was crowded with business matters.

Arrangements were made for a dinner to be held at the hall Monday evening the 18th by the Wear-Ever Agency to demonstrate the new method of cooking with their Wear-Ever goods.

A social hour followed during which time dainty refreshments were served. Adjournment to meet with Mrs. A. V. McCarty, San Thomas Road, April 27 at which meeting Mrs. Curtiss of San Jose will give a talk upon California landmarks.

Rebekahs Initiate

Ada Rebekah Lodge held an interesting session Tuesday night when the following new members were initiated: Misses Mattie Curran and Irene Preston and Messrs Hugo Bloom and Egbert Thompson.

Dist. Deputy President, Margaret Vortman of Sunnyvale was a distinguished guest.

The fine banquet was served by an efficient committee with Mrs. Anna Bachman, chairman.

On the evening of May 3, the lodge will hold a card party following the regular meeting. A variety of prizes wil be offered.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolff left last week for an Eastern trip which will include New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and other Eastern markets. They will be away several weeks making it a vacation as well as a business journey.

J. U. HIGGINBOTHAM KIWANIS SPEAKER

Kiwanis luncheon in Campbell was a busy hour Wednesday. President Cutting called for reports fro mseveral of the committee chairmen. Russ Kennedy of the by-laws told of the discipline expected and methods used to alter the by-laws. Ed. Wiesendanger told of the education along the line of forest conservation which is another cause and effect of water conservation, one of his hobbies.. Walt Merrill urged a 100 per cent attendance next week as a special effort on the part of all.

Chas. Robins wielded the mallet and let the chips fall where hey would. He used several novel methods of painless extraction and did it as only those of long experience in the Methodist pulpit can do. He got the coin too.

J. U. Higginbotham of Saratoga gave an entertaining talk on "Sell Youreslf" in his inimitable style. His plea was for all to sell one's best side to friends and relatives, always put the better foot first. His comical stories to drive home his points were the cause of much merriment.

Doc Beall will wield the pestle next Wednesday and it's a bitter pill he'll mix for illfated yokel that day. It being Canada week several "near Cannucks" of local fame will perform. Watch your step. Attendance was urged for the Free lecture on "Congressional Work." Ruth Bollinger and Anna Gerkovich assisted at the tables.

CHARLIE HOST AT DINNER PARTY

Last Friday evening, April 15, C. W. Shumway entertained a "stag" party at his residence on the Los Gatos Road.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in playing cards after which a delightful lunch was served. A novel feature of the evening was the use of appropriate Easter favors in the form of rabbitts and roosters. Those present were Messrs: J. H. Bachman, H. W. Morton, A. E. Brydon, T. A. Robinson, D A. McQueen, Oluf Strom and F. W. Coupland. The latter was present as a friendly guest and not in his official capacity.

When "Charlie" was asked concerning his age he replied, "Well, I was just about two weeks old when the Johnstown flood occured." You historians can figure that out.

Grange Dinner and Card Party

Orchard City Grange is sponsoring another of its successful card parties, but this time is conbining a dinner with a card party to be given in the Community Hall of the Library, Friday night April 22nd.

The comcompany enjoys a steadily growing patronage from this part of the valley. The new arrangement will not alter the management nor policy of the company and the business will be under the complete supervision of Herold W. whohas had charge for several years.

Our prayer is that rich Uncle Samuel may so live that he won't leave any nephew-heirs in Europe.

The continued rains in the Visalia district delayed the pruning of vineyards and orchards very greatly. However, the Tulare county horticultural officials believe the late pruning practiced here will not have any ill effects on growth or yield.

The cream check of Leonard Schmitz, a McFarland farmer, was $54.50 for the last fifteen days, the cream all coming from seven cows. Mr. Schmitz has eighty acres of wild pasture in such good condition that he has fed but a ton of hay in the past month and a half.

Cotton planting has been delayed by late rains at Corcoran, but the soil is in excellent condition. Prices on cotton have advanced steadily and seem to be holding firmer, so cotton growers are feeling cheerful.

COOLIDGE PROCLAIMS FOREST WEEK.

In accordance with the custom established by my predecessor, I have yearly proclaimed an American Forest Week. I do so again in the belief that no other of our internal problems is of greater moment than the rehabilitation of our forests, now so hopefully begun but needing the strong support of our collective will and intelligence. Through joint arrangement, Canda is observing forest week concurrently with us.

One-fourth of our soil is better suited to timber-growing than anything else. I can not escape the conviction that our industrial and agricultural stability will be strengthened by bringing into full productive use this great empire of land. Although much progress has been made in public forestry and hopeful beginnings in private forestry, we still have a vast aggregate of idle or semi-idle forest land, and another large aggregate of poor farm land that might more profitably grow timber instead of adding to the problem of agricultural overproduction.

Consider what blessings the use of this land for intensive forest culture would bring to our country. Our migratory forest industries would be stabilized and made permanent. Rural industry would be greatly strengthened and vitalized. Agriculture would find in silviculture a strong ally, providing markets for farm produce and for surplus labor. Our farms themselves contain nearly a third of our woodland—an enormous potential farm asset if handled for continuous timber crops. With widespread forest culture, new wealth would spring up for the support of roads, schools, and local government, and the rural regions would enjoy a larger share of the national prosperity. For some of our surplus capital now seeking investment abroad, new outlets would be found in forest production. Our people would then have an assured supply of timber and would see the hills and the waste places reclothed with forests for their pleasure and inspiration.

American Forest Week gives a useful opportunity for taking counsel on what can and should be done to bring these neglected and waiting lands into use. It also gives an opportunity for each citizen to consider his own responsibility in the common task. It is not enough that the Federal and State governments have joined hands with the landowner in the first step toward forest rehabilitation, protection against fire. Every citizen whose thoughtless act may endanger the woods has the obligation of respecting the forest and guarding its worst enemy, fire.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, CALVIN COOLIDGE, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set aside as American Forest Week the week beginning April 24 and ending April 30, in this year of 1927; and I do earnestly urge that during that week the thought of all citizens be directed to the need of preventing forest fires and to the measures necessary for the preservation and wise use of our forests. I recommend to the Governors of the several States that they likewise designate this week for special observance, and that where practicable and not in conflict with law or custom, Arbor Day be observed on some day of the same week. I urge that in each State special exercise be held in the schools and that the press and the general public give consideration to the forest needs of their respective commonwealths, to the adequacy of such legislation as may be on their statute books, and to the possible need for further enactments. And I urge that all who own forest lands give considerable to the feasibility of so using them that their benefits may continue in perpetuity.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this March 5, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fifty-first.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

By the President: JOSEPH C. GREW, Acting Secretary of State.

One of the largest poultry plants in Tulare county is being developed by the Woodside Poultry association at Visalia. It is planned to care for 10,000 laying hens.

Quite an acreage of watermelons is being planted this year at Ballico, Merced county, considering that peaches and grapes and alfalfa are the staple crops for his vicinity. There is no question about being able to produce good melons, and early ones at that, but the great problem has been to be able to market them to advantage.

Voters of Modesto school district went to the polls April 12, to cast ballots for city governing officers, for three members of the board of education and on the proposition of $330,000 for school improvements.

Better jobs generally go to better men.

With the sheepshearing and lamb shipping in full swing, and one of the best seasons from a crop standpoint in years, some wool is now moving to market, although, it is reported by J Bridegaray, well known Fresno wool buyer, a strong demand has not as yet been evinced by the big users of wool. Dispatches from Mendota indicate however, some activity in buying, with producers holding back for better prices. While the wool crop is better in quantity per head, running from two to three pounds more than last year, Bridegaray points out that the size of flocks in the San Joaquin valley district has shrunk during four dry years something like 40 per cent, thus limiting the gross output rather severely.

Before instalment payments were invented it was a new car by and by. Now it's new cars buy and buy.

Most of the orange growers of Redlands have been busy of late plowing under the winter cover crops, for this is the time of year that these crops begin to compete with the trees for moisture and plant food. Once turned under, they provide food for the soil instead of using up what is there already.

Late rains appear to assure a bumper grain crop for the dry-land farmers in the Hemet district. For the past three or four years these unirrigated crops have not offered much encouragement for the growers, but this season the ground has been soaked thoroughly and the grain is well advanced already.

Will Explore Unknown Sections of Australia

An expedition, which is expected to produce results of great scientific and economic importance, is being sent from Adelaide, South Australia, to explore unknown lands in the northern territory. It is being financed by Donald Mackay, of Sidney, New South Wales. The expedition will carry on research in geography, geology and anthropology, and will look for precious metals in which that part of Australia is reputed to be enormously wealthy. The leader of the expedition is Herbert Basedow, protector of the aborigines and the author of a book recently published on the Australian aboriginal, a subject on which he is a great authority. It was mainly due to the efforts of Mr. Basedow that the government a few years ago set aside a huge tract of land in the northern territory and western Australia as a reserve exclusively for the occupation of the aborigines. The expedition will carry a cinematograph and phonographs in order to record the native dances and corroborees and their songs. As the natives of the parts of Australia to which the expedition is going are almost unknown, these records will be of great value to science.

A GOOD SIDE YARD

Prospective Buyer—You deceived me, sir! The space at the side of this house amounts to nothing! Its not more than three feet!

Real Estate Agent (mildly)—Didn't I say there was a good sideyard?

Helping English Farmers

The British government has moved to increase and vary the agricultural production of the British isles because of the danger of a food shortage. But it has been uphill work. England's cultivation already approaches Belgium and Japan in its intensity. Farmers in England, Ireland, Wales and Scotland are conservative by tradition and hesitate to accept new methods worked out in the United States, Canada and Australia. Since there is no tariff, the dominions and foreign nations can ship in food products raised on a large scale and carefully graded and classified. They can actually undersell native producers in their own products.

Plan to Explore Tumulus

Near Ullensaker, in Norway, is a grass and tree-grown tumulus, 60 feet high and over 300 feet in diameter, says the Detroit News.

Dateless legend says it contains a stone chamber in which are the remains of an unknown king, lying on a couch between two white horses.

In 1870 an attempt was made to open the mound, but after several perilous falls of tons of earth and sand the excavators abandoned the work. Archeologists are now preparing to make a fresh attempt to test the truth of the tradition.

Jury Service Unpopular

The women of Australia do not appear to be as willing to serve on juries as are their American sisters. In Queensland, where every woman elector is eligible for jury service, provided she signs a declaration of willingness to serve, only 29 out of the 209,070 on the rolls have signed. Two of these have been called, but both were excused, so the first woman juror in Queenstown is yet to serve.

Water as Future Fuel

Charles Henry, the French physicist, has reported a discovery, which, if it can be applied, will revolutionize industry. After ten years of laboratory research he has found a way to catalyze water, and he hopes to develop a water-driven internal combustion engine. If his plans come to fruition, motor cars will be driven by hydrogen engines, and water will displace gasoline as a power fuel.

BOY SCOUTS ACTIVE HIKERS

The regular meeting of the Boy Scouts was held last Saturday night. After the roll call it was decided that the Scouts make two trips in the near future, one being a fishing trip to Boulder Creek and the second to the Lion's Den at Alum Rock. Both these trips will require thre days. We intend to leave here Friday after school and return Sunday afternoon. They will be taken in May.

Harold Gardner has successfully passed the required tests for his first class badge and five merit badges. He will receive these at the Court of Honor which will be held soon. This makes the fourth boy in our troop to obtain merit badges for progress.

Patrol four is still ahead in the race to see which patrol gains the most merit points by the end of the school term. The prize is a trip to the Yosemite Valley for a week.

Every Monday the Scouts go in swimming in the San Jose High School plunge from seven until eight o'clock.

This privilege was secured by Scoutmaster William Saveker.

Patrol four is going to give a pep meeting sometime next month. The exact date is not known, yet.

On Tuesday morning Hervey Voge, Spencer Holmese, Roy Kosick and Willard Laughlin started from Saratoga on a hike to Big Basin. Each carried blankets and provisions for three days—a pretty heavy load. However, the hikers reached the Basin somewhat earlier than they had expected, about half past four in the afternoon. The entire distance was covered on foot, as the park is not open to the public until May 15.

A fine time was had in the park by every one of the hikers. They hiked to several of th epark's places of distinction, and on the morning of the third day they headed back twoards home, then decided to spend the night in the open again, so they camped this time near the summit (above Saratoga) and made the last part of their return Friday morning.

Several more overnight hikes are being planned before the spring is over.

Theodore Anderson has been chosen by the Wild Life Protective Campaign to act as their representative in Northern California for their handbook which is being written.

TRUST COMPANIES RANK NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING HIGHEST

The outstanding trust institutions of the United States are those that were pioneers in using advertising as a means of selling their services, a speaker told a conference of trust companies held in New York recently. He presented the results of a questionnaire sent out by the Trust Company Division, American Bankers Association, making an inquiry into the advertising practices of institutions doing a trust business. Three out of every four trust companies and banks engaged in extending trust services were found to be advertising. The opinion was expressed by the speaker that their growth would closely follow the amounts spent each year for advertising.

The local newspaper is the most highly regarded advertising medium, it was disclosed. In all, 929 companies answering the questionnaire used the local papers and 338 did not. The institutions buying space in local papers are evenly divided among all sections of the country. Comparing six media for selling personal trust services and considering their effectiveness from the standpoint of producing results, the speaker declared that the local newspapers should head the list. Folders and booklets can reach a limited audience, he observed, but the newspaper is the best medium for acquiring prestige and mass circulation. It should never be omitted, he urged.

In Tulare county for the last year, peaches showed the largest gain in export value, particularly the canning variety. An approximate value of over $3,000,000 for peaches in this county was realized in 1926. The county has a total peach acreage of 21,690, including freestone and cling.

The cantaloupe growers of the Imperial valley have uncapped their plants, and report an excellent early growth. Weather conditions appear to be favorable for a rapid development of the viens.

The Klink Citrus Ass'n. of the Ivanhoe district has brought to a close the present orange shipping season. During the season 105 cars of oranges were shipped, ten cars of grapefruit, two cars of lemons and one car of tangerines. The growers found the price held up good throughout the season. The fruit was found to be of splendid quality this year. During the ensuing months until spring and after, growers of the district have outlined a heavy fertilizing program for their orchards, and expect to build their production higher through this means. The Ivanhoe sector is one of the few in the county which has not had its groves endangered by frost this season. There is rarely any damage from wind in the section.

The Oven Heat Control assures perfect results

There must be some reason.

Let us or one of the local range dealers explain more fully how to bake your costly ingredients perfectly by means of the Oven Heat Control on the new Gas Range.

Mrs. Cowles Writes from South Africa

Mrs. W. T. Alexander received the following letter from Mrs. Cowles in South Africa that will be of interest to her friends here.

Umzumbe, Natal, South Africa
January 18, 1927.

Dear Friends:

From beneath a pile of papers, I have just unearthed my Christmas letter dated September 29. You see I began early determined that my Christmas greetings for 1926 should be on time! How well I succeeded in my effort to be beforehanded, you can judge from the date of this second try. When the letter was half written, a steady march of big events overtook me, and there the letter has lain waiting for a chance to be finished. I have fled up-stairs this morning, telling Isaac not to call me, not even if King George himself should appear! It is bliss to be alone with you and quiet, and to "think white" for just a little while. I began my first letter in early spring, when rains had just started and frogs had begun to croak, and flying ants were fluttering in at the windows. Ploughs were at work and we were planting our gardens of corn and beans and taro bulbs. Orange trees were in full bloom and we were having mulberry pie and mushrooms and best of all Ruth and Raymond were still with us. I am writing now in mid-summer, when fields are ripening and we are having an abundance of green corn and native squash and pumpkin vine greens. Our "Pride-of-India" is just blossoming out into masses of pink feathery plumes, and the night blooming cereus plant, has scores and scores of great white blossoms all over it. I have sometimes counted eighty blossoms on one tree. This wonderful floral display, is our reward each year, for the Turkish bath weather, we have to endure, in order to produce such flowers. Mr. Cowles and I are quite alone now. Raymond left us in October, and Ruth in early November. Raymond is returning to California via British East Africa where he is visiting his uncle Henry on route. He is doing a lot of collecting in Kenya and at last accounts he had shot a hyena and was watching for a leopard. He had seven hundred specimens when he left here. I hope he will reach his goal, of one thousand, in B. E. A. This collection includes birds, mammals and reptiles. My sister, Mrs. Bridgman, reached us in early November, and Ruth left with her for Johannesburg. You will doubtless all hear from them of their first experiences in starting work and house keeping together. The weeks since the children left, have been so cramed full of emergencies and problems, there has been little chance for the old folks to brood, and, it is well. Mr. Cowles is away from home more than half of the time, and I am alone with natives almost always. When you see me next, should I begin to talk with you in Zulu, you will understand why!

Our Umzumbe field was never before so bright and promising, and Mr. Cowles and I have much to make us glad as we start upon this New Year. Oh! if we could only be young and strong again, so that we could just smash in, and march right along and enter every one of the doors opening out so wonderfully before us!

Just now, at Mr. Cowles' invitation, two theological students from Adams are visiting us, and spending a month in our field. Shezi and Tanzi are fine young married men, and full of the spirit of evangelism. Mr. Cowles is sending them in all directions, through this Umzube valley, and forty miles beyond, throughout our whole field. The people are fairly greedy to get these men, and it is delightful to see how eager they are to receive spiritual refreshment. The African, certainly, has a deep religious nature.

W. E. Landon, San Dimas horticultural inspector, was recently summoned to visit the orange grove of C. E. Plummer, to discover the cause of the dying of a number of the trees. He investigated carefully and found nothing that would seem to be fatal to citrus, so he sat down to study the matter and as he lighted a cigarette the dead tree under which he sat burst into flames. It was discovered that a gas main runs along the edge of the grove, and it seemed probable that a leak in it accounted not only for Mr. Landon's experience, but also for the injury to the grove.

There have never been brighter prospects for a big grain yield on the Tulare lake bed than there are at present, according to the growers themselves. The entire 150,000 acres is in wheat and barley, the former predominating. Earlysown barley may be ready to harvest in April and wheat in May.

An army of 40,000 starving Bulgarians descended upon Modesto last week but there is no fear of over population or a food shortage as the army is composed of 40,000 Bulgarian silk worms. They were received by Professor C. E. Woodward of Modesto College from Nedu Boyadgie of Sofia, Bulgaria. They were more than a month in transit. Although there were 40,000 worms in the shipment, they came in a package that weighed but one ounce. The worms hatched out enroute to Modesto. They arrived in Modesto in a starving condition. Woodward said, and it would require a heavy diet of mulberry leaves to save them. As mulberry leaves are not obtainable now, Woodward will feed them lettuce leaves instead. The worms will be studied at college.
